Purpose

UCDA recognizes the importance of lifelong learning and is excited to be able to provide scholarship opportunities to our design educators, a vital and important segment of our overall membership. With support from kynamatrix Research Network the UCDA Foundation is able to expand professional development opportunities for the UCDA Design Education Summit. The UCDA Design Education Summit is a program dedicated to helping the design education community to work together in advancing the quality and scope of design education.

This scholarship is offered to help offset the expense of attending the UCDA Design Education Summit. Scholarships will be awarded based on the recipients professional development benefit potential. This is not a cash scholarship, but will cover the summit registration fee; up to two nights lodging at the host hotel (if needed); and up to $300 that can be used towards travel.

Eligibility Guidelines

- Applicant must be a UCDA member in good standing (Faculty, Associate, Professional, or Student member)
- Applicant must be actively involved in design education.
- Applicant must complete the application and submit it along with narrative (see below) before the deadline.

Restrictions

- Current UCDA Board of Directors and UCDA Foundation Board of Directors are not eligible to receive a scholarship.
- If a recipient is unable to attend the summit, UCDA may select another recipient.
- This is not a cash scholarship, but will cover the summit registration fee; up to two nights lodging at the host hotel (if needed); and up to $300 that can be used towards travel.

Application Process

Please answer the following questions on a separate sheet and attach to this application:

1. What are your current work responsibilities?
2. What are your future professional plans and goals?
3. What professional areas do you feel you most need to develop?
4. How will attending the summit benefit your professional growth?

Deadline

All applications must be returned to the UCDA Home Office no later than March 1.

Selection Procedures

All eligible applications will be reviewed by the UCDA Foundation Board of Directors, based on the applicant's professional development benefit potential. Scholarship recipient will be notified by March 15.

The recipient of this scholarships will be publicly recognized during the summit.
