UCDA Foundation Krider Prize for Creativity Nomination Form

ABOUT THE AWARD

The Krider Prize for Creativity honors creativity wherever it may be found. It recognizes that designers draw their inspiration and influences from a broad range of fields and experiences. In the spirit of the Krider Prize, we cannot define creativity with out circumscribing an unnecessarily narrow vision.

ELIGIBILITY

Any individual or group is eligible to receive the Krider Prize. The only stipulation is that the recipient attend the annual UCDA Design Conference to receive the Krider Prize. The requirements also stipulate that the recipient give UCDA a presentation, seminar, work of art or other object or performance appropriate to the awardees field of endeavor, at the annual UCDA Design Conference (subject to approval). While these arrangements do not have to be made—or even discussed—prior to nominating, those nominating should consider these aspects of the Krider Prize, and if the nominee reaches the final stages of review, these criteria will have to be met. Please contact UCDA Foundation with any questions about the Krider Prize or the nomination process. Complete detail available online at ucda.com/krider-prize-creativity.

PLEASE ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS

1. Why is your nominee a candidate for the Krider Prize? Please use any format with which you feel comfortable (bullet points or paragraph). Also, if there is a website that would be helpful in our review, please include it.
2. If you have discussed the potential of the Krider Prize with this nominee, will they be available to come to the annual UCDA Design Conference to accept their award, and have you discussed the presentation aspect of the Prize?

Please return your nomination to the UCDA Foundation.
